In Appreciation . . .

Mr. Pitcher,

We, the Class of 1967 wish to express our most heart-felt thanks for the inspiring help you have given us in our plans for future life. We needed guidance in our lives and we found it in your advice. The future looks brighter through your words and encouragement. Because of your interest in us, we respect you as a friend and teacher and admire you as a man.

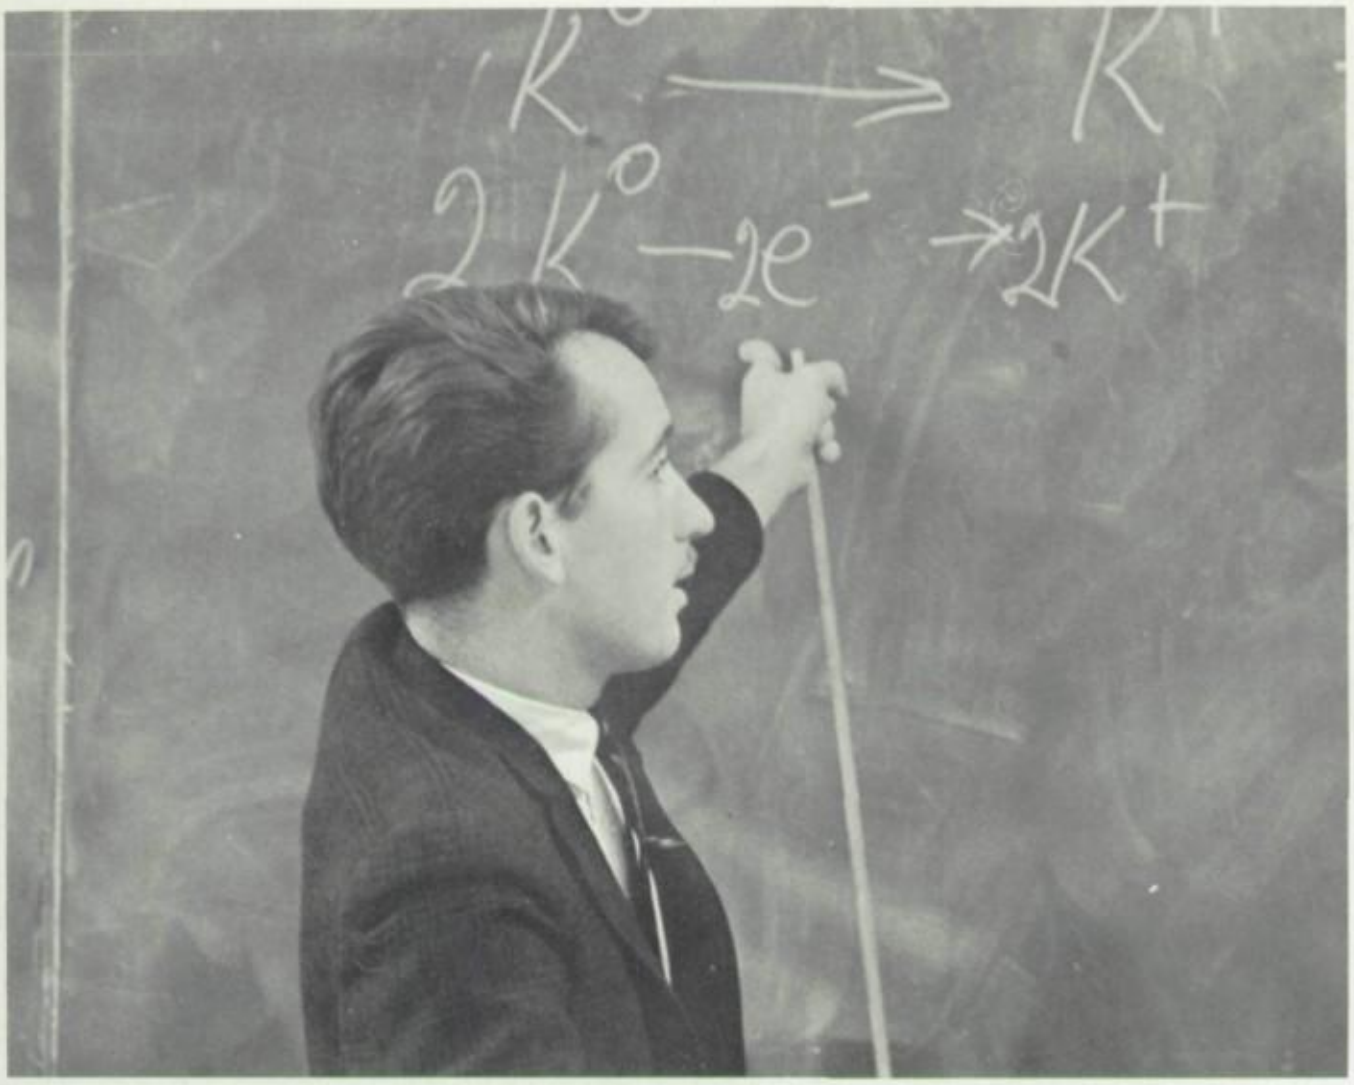
Thus, to you Mr. Pitcher, teacher and friend, we dedicate this 1967 edition of the Maroon Log. May it remind you of our class, the Class of '67, and of the good things we have done and those that we have tried to do.

As the Class of '67 presents the Maroon Log, we remember our years at F.S.C.S. . . .

. . . and our classes here.

Classes . . .

in English,



in Chemistry,

in Biology,

and in other subjects
which formed
the nucleus
of our academic life.

We also remember . . .

our
money-making activities,

our
dances,

. . . and our means of transportation

around the town, and valley, ...

. . . and, of course,

our teachers,

our coach,

and our band

director.

But most of all,
we remember
our friends . . . .

. . . in lab, . . .

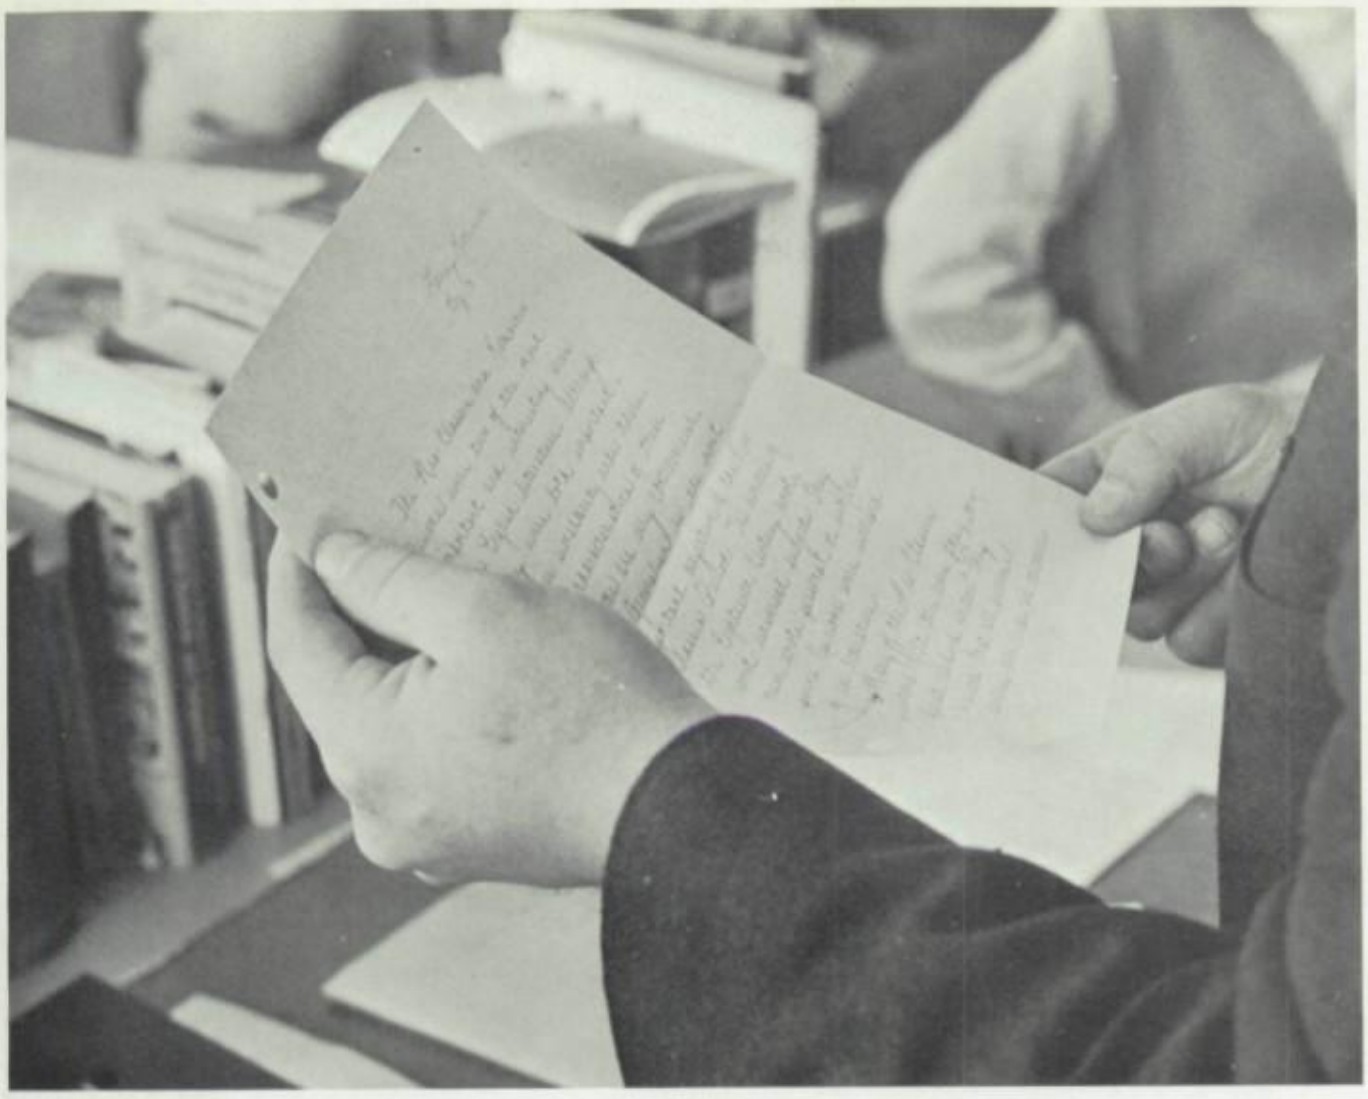
. . . at lockers

and games, ...

Best of luck to one of the cutest and nicest boys I know. I wonderful person. You're a Kitty. it's sad we can't be more than friends but I'll always be there for you. I'll miss you a lot! Be sure to write me always. Well Bye Love ya Kathy

. . . everywhere --

and everyway .



The Class of '67
remembers many things about
F.S.C.S., and looks forward to a final memory -- graduation.

Thank-You

The Maroon Log Staff would like to thank Mr. Clifford, F.S.C.S. band director for his help in producing our '67 Maroon Log. Mr. Clifford, an amateur photographer took many of the pictures used in our yearbook. Our athletics, faculty, and candid pictures were taken by him. Without his unselfish expenditure of time, production of the "Log" would not have been possible.

Thus, we thank you, Mr. Clifford, for your time, energy, and most of all, your patience.

Faculty and Administration

As one glances at the stature of the oak, he sees a representation of majestic wisdom. Standing tall, the oak never falters and maintains prestige, as well as authority, among the smaller trees. Our faculty at F.S.C.S. possess these same characteristics. With wisdom and experience, our teachers have led us so that we might attain goals, which would have remained unattainable without their guidance. We seniors thank the members of the faculty of F.S.C.S. for their effort and for the knowledge which they have helped us gain. Just as the oak stands superior in the forest, the faculty of F.S.C.S. remains superior, as molders of our character and fine examples to us as future citizens.

Administration

Superintendent of Schools

During his short tenure at Frankfort-Schuyler, Mr. Anthony Borgognoni, Superintendent of Schools, has initiated many changes. He is responsible for a new emphasis on academics as shown by the science and language laboratories.

Board of Education

This year the Frankfort-Schuyler Board of Education initiated a movement for the location of an upper level division of the State University in the Frankfort-Schuyler District.

Board members are: Mr. Sydney DeRollo, Mr. Donald Luther, Mr. Charles Bono, Mr. James Wallace, Mr. Robert Hughes. ABSENT: Mr. Frank Pontolillo, Mr. Fred Furtek.

Administration

Business Manager

Mr. Nicholas Chuff, Business Manager began his duties in this new position this year. He is in charge of the budget, the non-professional staff and discipline.

High School Principal

Mr. Nicholas Frank has long been associated with the Frankfort-Schuyler Central Schools. As Principal, he has spent many hours for the improvement of education in our school.

Seniors

The rose in bloom signifies an awakening and an eagerness for life. In order to reach this stage, the rose has been nourished, protected, and trimmed, so that the rose's beauty might reach its highest degree.

So it is with the Seniors. The years spent at Frankfort-Schuyler have nourished our minds with knowledge, have protected us while we gradually explored the world around us, and have pruned the useless antics from our lives. Now, like the rose in bloom, we are eager to face the world before us, hoping that this knowledge and experience gained at F.S.C.S. will lead us to our greater goals.

Underclassmen

The underclassmen are like the bud of a flower, holding the potential of its lifetime within. They contain the future strength that will come to them, their family, and their school. We, as seniors, who have now passed this stage of initial growth, can only hope that the remaining years of your education at F. S. C. S. shall blossom into an enriched lifetime of success.

Activities

Nature's babbling brook characterizes the sparkle of extra-curricular activities in our high school. It indicates the undercurrent of vivacious spirit present in these groups, a spirit which will develop the members of today into the leaders of tomorrow. We are the pebbles which the stream carries. Each bend in its course is a challenge, but the rewards and the experiences gained far outnumber its menacing turbulences.

Student Council

As the school year comes to its final stages, Frankfort-Schuyler can look in retrospect on the leadership which the Student Council provided. Instilling the students with its own spirit, the Council sponsored a candy sale to provide funds for a long awaited Foreign Exchange Student.

P. Tocco, secretary; P. Nurod, president; J. Marine, vice-president; M. Plano, treasurer.

Athletics

Standing tall above the surrounding terrain, a granite cliff is symbolic of an athlete, readying himself for an important game. The following section of our yearbook contains stories, pictures, and names of every student who has participated in athletics during the year. As athletes, these students have suffered through tedious practices and have endured other sacrifices; but, as the granite cliff has shown strength against the adverse effects of weathering, these athletes of F.S.C.S. have shown this same strength and endurance through good sportsmanship, both in victory and in defeat!

Jim, what can I say to a real swell kid that hasn't already. I know your personality, great sense of humor, & always of luck ex you attempt. Never forget our rides to the games and that 11 of us or ONE has your bearable (S.P.) year.
Keep Your Always God Bless And
